

So it looked few days ago with Semonkey 2.3.3 (several times)

So it looks currently with Seamonkey 2.4

So it should look: Link to Bugzilla, Attachment browser and Bug submission step 7 visible

Like most of the LibO web pages there is much to much Project header overhead, more than half of the page is filled with such Project infrastructure page heading. Why do we need 1 lin with green „Bug“ and additional 3 lines „Bug Submission Assistant“? And for what do we need the Project header? If someone clicks there the Assistant session will be lost

